

City of Long Beach

Building Back Stronger, Smarter, Safer

2013 Police Department Report

The Long Beach Police Department has gotten leaner by reducing staff through attrition, deploying more officers on the street, and continuing to cut unnecessary department spending.

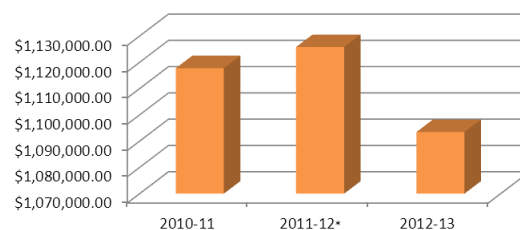

The Long Beach Police Department has proactively cut departmental spending year-over-year while steadily increasing productivity and driving down crime.

- ✓ Department Spending ↓ 1.67M from 2010-2011
- ✓ Overtime ↓ year-over-year despite storm operations
- ✓ Police Force Right-sized
 - Historically, Long Beach had 78-80 officers; recently we have kept the staffing level to 70 or fewer officers.
 - Due to additional retirements, we are currently at historic lows in the department.
 - Higher-paid police executives will be replaced by lower-paid, fresh, aggressive officers.
- ✓ Productivity ↑ - Deployed additional officers to the street to increase enforcement.
- ✓ Increased Traffic Safety- Auto Accidents ↓ 6%
- ✓ OVERALL CRIMES ARE ↓ 11.9%

Police Department
Overall Spending

Police Department
Overtime

* Current Administration took office in January 2012- Overtime was already at $720,275

Increased Police Enforcement- DOING MORE WITH LESS

Additional Summer Specials were hired as well as adding ATVs, Rangers, bicycles and foot patrols to augment our enforcement and compliance efforts. All of which led to the following results:

- ✓ DWIs reduced by 52%
- ✓ Resident Calls to the Police reduced by 17%

Long Beach Police Department Crime Report

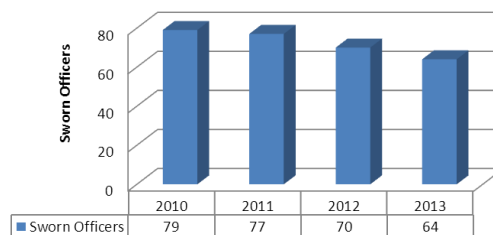

Crime ↓

Despite staffing reductions and Superstorm Sandy,

- ✓ Robberies are down 25%
- ✓ Assaults are down 38%
- ✓ Criminal Mischief is down 12%

City of Long Beach
Police Department Staffing

Long Beach City Council

Scott J. Mandel, President
 Fran Adelson, Vice President
 Eileen J. Goggin
 John McLaughlin
 Len Torres

Police Commissioner

Michael Tangney

City Manager

Jack Schnirman